

October 09, 2007

Make Your Own Commercial

Creating your company's first commercial can seem like a rather daunting task. That's why Commercial Creator, Inc. is saving business owners time and money while helping them create the spot of their dreams. According to this press release, Commercial Creator does for advertising what YouTube did for entertainment by allowing business owners to create professional TV commercials online. The company's editors will take your original vision and turn it into a polished final product. Custom TV spots start at $399, and customers can choose from thousands of video clips and music tracks and write their own voiceovers. Each order comes with a tape for TV broadcast, along with digital movie files and DVDs.

Posted by Kristin Edelhauser at 10/09/2007 12:13:54 AM
