DIY TV ads

The first online TV commercial production company.

COMMERCIAL CREATOR

Some of the most memorable Super Bowl ads last season were created for Doritos and Chevrolet by viewers, something that wouldn't have ever happened if it weren't for the advent of user-submitted video sharing sites like YouTube. So what if you want high quality ads but you want to skip the expensive ad agency? Enter CommercialCreator.com. They claim that "with only a few hundred dollars and an idea" you can create your own television-quality commercials online, using their web-based tools.
